

On December 15th and 16th, ALTA was present at the 7th edition of the Safety Management Summit – SMS Brazil 2022, promoted by the National Civil Aviation Agency (ANAC). The conference took place in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Our Director of Safety and Operations, Virginio Corrieri, gave a presentation on “Safety Initiatives in the Latin American and Caribbean Region”, during which he presented an overview of the sector and addressed relevant topics for Safety in the region, such as ICAO initiatives through the RASG-PA and those of the ALTA Safety Committee. Corrieri also reinforced the importance of the union of regulators and industry so that the proposed objectives are achieved.

The event aims to share information on operational safety management, experiences, and best practices among representatives of the civil aviation industry, air operators, airfield operators, maintenance organizations, pilots, and manufacturers.

Our thanks to ANAC for the opportunity.
